LEADERS ARE EVERYWHERE

It is not easy leading a group of people, so there are important personality traits and skills that good leaders need to have. Draw a line to match the traits of a good leader with their definitions.

- | | |
|---------------------|--|
| ☆ Decisive | Thinking of many solutions to problems that need to be solved |
| ☆ Thoughtful | Making choices for the good of everyone, not just yourself. |
| ☆ Empathy | Able to take information about a problem and make a choice |
| ☆ Brave | Hears the ideas and thoughts of everyone instead of just yourself. |
| ☆ Creative | Believing people's experiences are real, even if they are different from yours |
| ☆ Listener | Taking risks, making tough decisions, and standing up for others |
| ☆ Selfless | Thinking before you act so that you make a good decision |

Think about the problems below. Describe how a good leader would use some of the traits and skills above to solve them.

Problem 1: The school is collecting blankets, toys, food, and beds for a local animal shelter. The donations are piling up but no one knows what to do next.

Problem 2: A group of people are organizing the library, and everyone is shouting. No work is getting done, and many books are missing.
